Sunday afternoon Mae Nickell entertained at her home quite a crowd of her H. G. A. friends, among whom were Misses Jesse and Ella Arnett, Bessie Hollon and Georgia Tipton and Joseph Estep, Harlan Brown, J. S. Alexander and Edgar Wells. Several entertained with their musical talents. All desire to thank the members of the string band for their splendid productions.

Saved From Awful Peril.

"I never felt so near my grave," writes Lewis Chamblin, of Manchester, Ohio, R. R. No. 3, "as when a frightful cough and lung trouble pulled me down to 115 pounds in spite of many remedies and the best doctors. And that I am alive today is due solely to Dr. King's New Discovery, which completely cured me. Now I weigh 160 pounds and can work hard. It also cured my four children of croup." Infallible for coughs and colds, it's the most certain remedy for the grippe, asthma, desperate lung trouble and all bronchial affections. 50c and $1.00. A trial bottle free. Send in the news.

LANDSAW.

Lissa Pack has moved to the farm of N. L. Combs.

Rollin Combs and Otis Kash, of H. G. A., visited home folks over Sunday.

We are informed that K. M. Halsey's school at Malaga closes on the 11th.

John Madden commenced moving today to his farm, above Daysboro, which he recently bought.

James R. Little was here again last week buying hogs and left with a nice bunch at 7c a pound.

Prof. W. H. Dean spent the greater part of Saturday at this place, much to the satisfaction of his many friends.

N. L. Combs, deputy sheriff, has been very busy the past week serving warrants and other papers placed in his hands.

The mare sold by H. L. Whisman to O. B. Linkous brought $140 in place of $40 as stated in THE HERALD last week.

Curt Halsey, the far king of this section, shipped a nice bunch of hens to the Cincinnati market last Friday. Curt says that he thinks that the next deal that he makes will be to subscribe for THE HERALD.

Boyd Cundiff recently bought the Uncle Elisha Chambers farm, paying $2,000, which is considered a bargain. Roscoe Wells also bought a farm of Harry McQuinn, paying $425. Both deals were made last week.

Harrison Tackett, accompanied by W. H. Taylor, left here Saturday to attend Mizpeh lodge, F. & A. M., at Hazel Green, and as Harrison did not come back until Sunday evening, we guess that he had come back to Mr. Taylor's, probably to finish settlement on carpenter works.

The farmers are busy preparing for farming, buying plows, gears, etc. It is time to get interested. If there was more work and greater interest by the farmer, he would not be annoyed by paying 20 cents for meat, 20 cents for lard, $4 for flour, and 80 cents for oats. Where the farmer fails to produce these things by negligence or idleness he ought to pay high prices, for high priced farm products is the life of the farm.

John P. Tackett, of near this place, one of our very best citizens, was here last Saturday. He has eight children, four girls and four boys. The girls are all married and live in Carter county. The boys are single and live in this county. Mr. Tackett appreciates THE HERALD to the extent that he has sent it to three of his daughters, and the fourth would be getting it but she moved to Carter county only last week.

LITTLE PIG.

A few minutes delay in treating some cases of croup, even the length of time it takes to go for a doctor often proves dangerous. The examination for census enumerators was held at Campton last Saturday by C. C. Williams. There were thirty odd applicants and the examination was very complex. One or two came from Morgan county and one came from Lee county in hopes they would pass and get the appointment from their respective counties.

The present school law is the worst outrage ever perpetrated upon the people of Kentucky. At least that is the way it operates in this section. To be plain in stating existing facts: Consolation, No. 62, in Morgan county, and only about two and a half miles from our town, is deprived in a large measure of educational facilities as the children have to go four miles away and along a road in which runs a branch all the distance. A gentleman living near the old school house, at Consolation, has two boys going to the Holly Wilson school, on Nickell fork, and to get there they have to leave before daylight and return home after night, when they are wet to the knees. The abolishing of Consolation thus forces 20 or 25 children to do without education or walk about four miles. Public Square, a school below our town was also abolished, and about the same condition exists there as at Consolation. True, the annulling of these two schools adds to Hazel Green school district, but it is an injustice to the people of those two districts, who must needs send a long distance or be deprived of the privilege of public education, and the people generally are in arms against the present state of affairs. Our member of the legislature will do his constituents a great favor by voting to abolish the present school law absolutely, or amending same that the old school districts may come into their own.

EVERYBODY is damning the trusts for the high prices of breadstuffs, meat and other commodities which are consumed by the people. But they are wrong in their surmise. The farmer failing to produce sufficient to supply the demand is the responsible party for present conditions, and while this is so he is in a position where he cannot help himself, generally speaking, because he cannot secure the help to till his lands. Former tenants and farm hands working by the month, attracted by the higher prices paid on public works and in the towns and cities have abandoned their farms and 99 times in 100 have got the worst of it. On the farm any tenant can have his garden, a cow and a few pigs for his meat, while in the city he is compelled to pay all he makes to keep himself and his family, if he be so unfortunate as to have one. Whenever the farmer can secure adequate help to till his lands present conditions will change and not till then. Unless, indeed, the government steps in and gives farms out of the public lands to those who will cultivate them for the products consumed by the people. True, there are many farmers even in our own section who could double the capacity of their farms if they would expend a little more energy. Population is increasing and farm products decreasing. That's where the whole thing binges.

The Meat Boycott.

Farmers of southwestern Ohio have taken a hand in the anti-meat crusade. It became known that nearly 500 of them have signed an agreement to withhold from market all live stock for sixty days. This, they believe, will prevent any falling in prices. Several agricultural societies are said to be backing the movement informally and it is spreading.—Ex.

WARN EASY MARKS.

Secret Service Discovers Another New Counterfeit Bill.

A counterfeit $1 silver certificate has been discovered by the secret service, and Chief Wilkie has issued a circular in which the counterfeit is described as of "the series of 1899; check letter 'B,' face plate No. 4810; back plate No. 2844 or 2344; W. V. Vernon, Registrar of the Treasury; Charles H. Treat, Treasurer of the United States and containing portraits of Lincoln and Grant."

The counterfeit inspected would easily deceive the ordinary handler of money. The face and back are printed on thin paper and between them is pasted a third sheet to give the required thickness. A few bits of coarse and ravelled silk twist were inserted between the sheets. Mediocre workmanship is noticeable on the back note, where the words "one dollar" in the marginal upper right panel of the note appear to have been scratched on.

Other words show crude manipulation of the engraver and the color of the seal, numbers and denominational figures on the face of the note is pale as compared with the original.

Practical Housekeeping.

An absorbing innovation for the education of the school girl—the study of practical housekeeping—is at present undergoing a rigorous test in a model flat used as one of the departments of the High School of Practical Arts.

The trustees of this institution find sufficient justification for this rather novel experiment in the fundamental idea that the chief aim of a woman's life is marriage, and for the purpose of making practical observations of this principle they have leased an apartment consisting of five rooms, where a class of young women is now in training.

Such duties as sewing, cooking, washing, ironing, and, in fact, whatever pertains to the vocation of a housewife, together with the most essential high school studies, are being taught at this school.

Any hour during the day may be seen little maidens with their hair done up in caps and their dresses all covered with long aprons, doing all sorts of housework. The students have been taught to keep their apartment immaculately clean, as it is constantly inspected by visitors and sometimes by city officials.

It was not long ago that Mayor Hibbard and Mr. Storrow lunched with the little housekeepers and they enthusiastically stated that the luncheon was faultless.

There is one method taught the students thoroughly, and that is the art of making a dollar purchase as much as possible. This is taught when the teacher and a class go shopping.

Not only are the students taught how to buy the material for one meal, but on the other hand she is cautioned to look ahead and remember that oftentimes one can make dainty little dishes out of left-overs.

After the shopping is done there follows a cooking lesson, and the food which is prepared is sold to the teachers and students when the lunch hour comes.

Every student is permitted to bring to school an old hat and with the aid of the teacher she repairs and models it, bringing her millinery up to date.

There are courses in English, history, art, mathematics, science, and modern and foreign languages, for it is never forgotten that though the school teaches distinctly feminine occupations, it is also necessary to encourage the development of the intellect to win a diploma.

The school has made the work once looked upon as something to be dreaded a pleasure and course of scientific study.—Roxbury (N. Y.) Times.

All the sportsmen of the state are said to be behind Senator Claude M. Thomas, who introduced a bill in the Senate creating a State Game and Fish Commission and providing for a rigid enforcement of the game laws. Should the act become a law, both residents and non residents of Kentucky will be forced to take out licenses to hunt in this state. The bill also makes provision for a State Game and Fish Warden, who will have a deputy in each county. The bill fixes heavy penalties for violations. The advocates of a more stringent law for the protection of game and fish in Kentucky, declare that such a statute rigidly enforced is absolutely necessary to prevent game from becoming extinct.

Two Bills Pending Which Affect Secretary of State.

If the bill now pending, creating the office of bank commissioner, is passed by the legislature and becomes a law, the secretary of state is going to have lively times running his office. There are two banking bills which are attracting much attention. One bill that the state bankers want provides for the appointment of bank examiners under the secretary of state, and leaves that official in charge of the banks, as he is at present. The other bill takes the banks away from the secretary of state and places them under the control of a bank commissioner, who is appointed by the governor.

There is much talk nowadays about the annual postal deficit of seventeen millions in the Postoffice Department. If it were managed with one-half the thrift of the express companies, or other railroad freight, it would pay the government a profit of at least twenty per cent on two hundred millions of dollars. Any corporation, except the corporation of the United States with its board of directors sitting on Capitol Hill, would make that much out of it.

To License Engineers.

The National Association of Stationary Engineers are endeavoring to get a license law passed at the present session of the Kentucky legislature, similar to those laws now in force in several other states. It provides that persons before they will be allowed to run steam engines above certain horse power must first take out a state license. A new state board to be appointed by the governor, is provided for by the bill, whose duty it shall be to examine applicants for licenses, and inspect steam engine plants.

Fendists Given Up.

After a long resistance six of the Daniel fendists of Pike county have surrendered themselves to the sheriff at Pikeville and are charged with murder. Those who surrendered are James Daniels and his five sons, in defending whom Mrs. Charles Daniels and her sixteen-year-old daughter were shot to death in the doorway of their home near Devon, Mingo county, W. Va., by officers and the posse from Pike county, Ky., November 25.

Perhaps without an equal is a black shorthorn steer owned by Elias Mitchell near Fountain City, Indiana. The steer weighs 4500 pounds, is six feet in height and five feet two inches across the back. The steer is the object of much attention, and Mitchell says he has refused $1,200 for it expecting to get much more. The steer is allowed to run at large in a large pasture.

Jimmie Day's Record.

Dear All: Well, the Houston shoot is over and I landed pretty good. Below I hand you the numbers missed by the 6 leading amateurs and 3 leading professionals of 15:

Amateurs	Professionals
Graham (Ill.).....60	Gilbert (La.).....41
Lewis (Mo.).....31	Bills (Ill.).....56
Graham (Ala.).....65	Fogard (Tex.).....64
Day (Tex.).....68	(And 12 other pro-
Wulf (Wis.).....70	fessionals below
Howard (Tex.).....75	me.)

Monday, January 24, in the Houston Chronicle trophy race, 100 targets, I tied with three others, 98-100. In the shoot-off: Duvenil (Ill.) 25; Day, 24; Connely, 24; Howard, 23.

In the Houston Post trophy race
(team): Day and Jones, second,
46 out of 50.

I won the $40 Fox D B gun and sold it for $25. All in all I had a nice time and won money enough to pay expenses.

I am mentioned as the best southern man to go on the 5-man amateur team to attend the Olympic games in Europe this year.

With love to all,

JAMES S. DAY.

(Houston (Texas) Post.)

Prominent among the amateurs
in attendance this year on Sunny South handicap was James S. Day, of Midland, who holds the amateur record of the world for 400 targets, dropping four of that number in the two days' shoot at Sulphur, Okla., in May, 1908. His best straight run is 150 targets. Mr.
Day made a run of 110 during the meet just closed. He also holds the double target championship of Texas, won in two successive state
meets at Austin and Galveston.
His score was 40 out of 50. Mr.
Day's average last year was 94.41,
which put him in the front flight of the amateur race for yearly average, but he did not shoot at enough targets to qualify. Mr.
Day's shooting is especially remarkable in that he has not faced the traps since last August, and there being no gun club in his town, he goes only to the several large tournaments of the south and west every year. He was the only shooter in attendance from his section of the state.

There is a rumor going the rounds that there have been 100 cases of measles in this town this winter. How the report got into circulation, or whether it was started with malicious intent, we are not prepared to say. But this we can say and vouch for its truth.
There has not been a single case of measles in the town or school this winter, and the enrollment has been larger than ever before, 300 and over being in attendance nearly all the time. If the people who circulated these reports will be as free to now straighten out the story, they can make amends for the falsehood they have been guilty of, and we sincerely hope they will hasten to do so.

An infant child of Frank Sample and wife, of Lacy creek, died Monday morning.

dier and pensioner, died at his

Buen McNabb, of Chapel branch, had his horse fall with him on Frozen last Friday, about dusk, and lost control of the reins and fell off. The horse ran about 20 feet down the branch and then took up another, where he ran about 75 yards, dragging Mr. Mc-Nabb by one stirrup over the water and rocks. Just as the horse started to jump a log into a pile of brush the wooden stirrup split and released his foot or he would never have been here to tell the tale. He says he don't know if the horse kicked at him or not.
It was a narrow escape from death.

water and was fatally scalded.

The price of mules is still soaring. W.
W. Razor, of Bath county, sold a pair of yearlings for $340, and a pair of 3-year-olds for $500.

Sportsmen have received reports that nearly 80 per cent of the quail in Kentucky were starved or frozen to death
during the recent heavy snows and cold weather.

Frank Gardner, of Mt. Sterling, who has kept a record of the weather for many years, says there has been less sunshine this winter than there has been in any for forty years.

The remains of Arthur Goebel, who recently died in Arizona, were laid to rest beside those of his brother, Governor William Goebel, in the Frankfort

Second Kentucky district, was last week nominated for his fifth term. The district is overwhelmingly Democratic.

Fire in the redrying plant of J. P.
Taylor & Co., at the Central Kentuck-tobacco warehouse, in Lexington, entailed a loss of $13,000, of which $7,500 was for tobacco destroyed. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

Some thief, or thieves, broke open all the beehives belonging to A. Dickerson, at the farm house from which he had just moved, several miles north of Owingsville, and stole all the honey his bees had stored for the winter.

The old city railway barn, at Lexington, together with twenty-two city cars and two interurban cars, was destroyed by fire at an early hour Friday morning, with a loss of between $25,000 and $30, 000, partially insured. Cause of fire unknown.

As a result of trying to kindle a fire with coal oil Stephen Padgett, a 13-year-old Cynthia boy, lost his life. His mother was badly burned in trying to extinguish the flames. The house was completely destroyed, rendering several families homeless.

Secret service men are after a gang of mail order thieves in Lawrence county.
They organized the Bank of Orr, which k'd them, and by the endorsement of this institution, which never existed, they succeeded in swindling a number of firms throughout the country.

Catesby Woodford had ten pure bred Southdown ewes, valued at $150, killed by dogs on his farm in Bourbon county.
A few nights later the dogs came again and thirteen of them were killed without any loss of sheep. The dogs came from the colored suburbs of Paris.

Lexington Whitt, an aged man who was serving time in the penitentiary, is now a free man, having been granted
a full and free pardon by Gov. Willson, and has been released from the prison

days with his family in Magoffin county.

$200,000 stock company to build a six-

Limestone street. Work is to begin April 15. The new hotel will be called

Simpson Filson, of Fleming county, had $900 stolen from him some time since. He kept the money in an old violin case fastened with a common padlock. John Estill, who disappeared about the same time, was suspected and last week he was arrested in Kankakee, Ill. He confessed to having taken $300, and had $224 on his person when ar-law, Mayor Polsgrove headed a posse of policemen, kicked down the door of the confiscated a supply of liquor concealed under the bed, and arrested Kenney and

A Word of Hope to Liquor and Drug Victims.

(Indianapolis (Ind.) Independent.)

In these days of great reforms, when the liquor habit is absorbing public attention, it may be timely to call attention to another growing, insidious disease that has become alarming prevalent, of which the average citizen knows but little and has been regarded as incurable by many physicians and the victims of this dread disease.

It is a disease that holds the victim helpless in its clutches, de-thrones his will power and reason, destroys the finer sensibilities, creates crime, separates once happy families and does more to fill our poor houses and insane asylums than any other cause, and, unless checked, will paralyze the vital forces of this nation, like China has been debauched, for it assails the highest and the lowest and the richest and the poorest, and is already a scourge in this country and as much to be dreaded as the "white plague" and the liquor habit itself. We refer to the drug habit, which has become alarmingly prevalent in this country, and something must be done to check its growth, or the consequences to our future must be serious.

We take the liberty to quote from the closing paragraphs of a sermon delivered by the Rev. Geo. Riebold, an eminent minister and reformer, of Hope, Ind., who has given the liquor and drug habits a sensible and practical investigation, in which he gives illustrations of the terrible effects of the drug and liquor habits. This very able sermon was delivered by this eminent divine to his congregation at Hope, Ind., on Feb. 8, 1908. The entire sermon would be valuable reading to those afflicted and to the public generally, but the want of space forbids giving the entire sermon, but we quote sufficient of this sermon to hold out the word of hope to those afflicted that they may know that there is relief awaiting them if they only take advantage of it. The closing paragraphs are as follows:

"I should feel a personal condemnation were I to close this sermon without placing with the friends of these unfortunate addicts a word of hope and comfort. For so long—to add a more somber shade to the picture the background of which was already so dark as to make indistinguishable its objects—there have been those professing to know who have declared the opium and morphine habit an incurable disease.

A Balm in Gilead.

The Literary Digest, during the past year, in speaking of the discovery by some missionaries in the far east of a medical plant for the cure of the opium habit, declared that it was usually conceded that the habit is irremedial. A few years ago a great divine, speaking on this subject, said he had often seen whisky cures, but not a single morphine cure. To this hopeless class we wish to bring the glad tidings of great joy. We personally know men who have been cured for fifteen years. We do know that there is a remedy, and that there is a balm in Gilead for them. In the preparation of this sermon we have sought information from many of the leading sanitariums in the country where these cures are made. Among all these none is of better reputation and character than the Hord Sanitarium, at Shelbyville, Ind. Its proximity here gave me an opportunity, a few weeks ago, to ascertain upon personal investigation facts that enable me to announce to a certainty that this dreadful disease in its worst forms has its positive cure.

The Horrors of the Demon's Work.

"To better appreciate the horror of this demon's work on men and women let me describe a few of the patients of the sanitarium recently visited at Shelbyville and whose cures approach the miraculous. I personally spoke to a young man, a telegraph operator. He has used eighty grains of morphine daily for seven years. I asked him if he had suffered any in the removal of so powerful a drug and stimulant. He replied that he did suffer some for a period of perhaps six hours, but at the time of our conversation he had no desire whatever for the drug. Think of a train dispatcher using eighty grains a day!

"A lady physician brought her husband there, a physical wreck, after using without relief thirteen cures and having increased the quantity of drug taken to the amount that would ordinarily kill a score of men. She expressed herself to the physician in charge that she would rather see him die than to be obliged to see him remain as she had brought him. What must have been her joy to have this man restored to her in perfect health. For so he was. A physician, once very prominent in Indiana, became, by the use of morphine, such a helpless wreck as to be obliged to remain upon a farm from which for years he never went forth save at night, and then with a lantern, for his days became as nights and his nights as days, one of the common results of morphineism—a crazy, hermit-like man, for thirty-five years was the time of his addiction to slavery. In the short time of a month he was returned to his friends and family, in body and mind a man.

The Cruel Bondage.

"One patient was about to be sent by the County Commissioners to the insane asylum (dementia, another common result), when the Messrs. Hord suggested that they were able to effect a cure in the case for no greater amount than they would incur in the man's committal to the asylum. The county commissioners and township trustees agreed, and he who by his daily use of forty grains of the drug had made himself mentally a fit subject for the insane asylum, was perfectly and completely cured.

"This occasion forbids a description of the depravity to which these patients are carried by the power of this demon. One patient, who by the loss of a limb at one time and an eye at another, became an addict to the use of both morphine and cocaine, used thirty to forty grains of each daily, besides a pint to a quart of whisky daily. This man by the use of a hypodermic needle, had so caloused the skin of his entire body, except his neck and face, that he used a sharp pen knife to make an incision that he might the better introduce the needle without breaking it. A picture of this scarred body is on file in the office of the sanitarium, and the patient, who has been cured for several years, gladly bears testimony to this miraculous salvation from the degrading and inhuman captivity.

"The cases mentioned are but a hint of the sufferings and terror of this cruel bondage, and do not half tell the story of the ability of these men to effect deliverance from a most pitiful vassalage."

Won't Need a Crutch.

When Editor J. P. Sossman, of Cornelius, N. C., bruised his leg badly, it started an ugly sore. Many salves and ointments proved worthless. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve healed it thoroughly. Nothing is so prompt and sure for ulcers, boils, burns, bruises, cuts, corns, sores, pimples, eczema or piles. 25c at all dealers.

QUESTIONS THE CENSUS

Men Will Ask the Farmers of Kentucky—Figure It Out Now and Get it Ready.

Kentucky farmers will be asked a long list of questions when the 1910 census enumerator strikes them for an accounting.

There are fifty-nine inquiries that must be answered by every farmer in the United States operating on three acres or more. Detailed information covering every department of the farm, including the expenses of its maintenance, the cost of producing various crops, live stocks, etc., and the amount realized on such products during the last year is sought.

The first inquiries on the blank are the usual questions designed to fully establish the identity of the farm, the length of time he has occupied the farm, etc.

Following these, the subjects to be inquired into, briefly stated, are as follows:

- Farm acreage, April 15, 1910.
- Farm value, April 15, 1910.
- Mixed tenure.
- Mortgage indebtedness, April 15, 1910.
- Farm expenses.
- Land owned, but not operated, by farmer.
- Cattle.
- Swine.
- Horses and mules.
- Asses and burros.
- Animals born on the farm during 1909.
- Pure bred animals.
- Domestic animals, boarded or pastured.
- Wool or mohair (goat hair) shorn in 1909.
- Dairy products in 1909.
- Fowls over three months old on the farm, April 15, 1910.
- Fowls and eggs produced in 1909.
- Bees and honey.
- Grain and seeds.
- Hay and forage.
- Sundry crops (cotton included in this inquiry).
- Small fruits.
- Orchard fruits.

Woman's Beauty

Some women retain their beauty to an advanced age. But women, who regularly endure pain, age rapidly, for suffering leaves its lasting marks on them.

Nearly all women suffer more or less with some form of female trouble. It should not be neglected. Avoid the pain—treat yourself at home by taking Cardui, as thousands of other women have done. Begin at once and give Cardui a fair trial.

TAKE CARDUI

It Will Help You

Mrs. Katie Burlison, Goreville, Ill., tried Cardui and writes: "I suffered with female troubles, and was so sick I could not stand on my feet. Finally I began to take Cardui, and soon began to mend. Now I am able to do all my housework and am in much better health than I was before." Try it.

Enlarging Your Business

If you are in business and you want to make more money you will read every word we have to say. Are you spending your money for advertising in haphazard fashion as if intended for charity, or do you advertise for direct results?

Did you ever stop to think how your advertising can be made a source of profit to you, and how its value can be measured in dollars and cents. If you have not, you are throwing money away.

Advertising is a modern business necessity, but must be conducted on business principles. If you are not satisfied with your advertising you should set aside a certain amount of money to be spent annually, and then carefully note the effect it has in increasing your volume of business; whether a 10, 20 or 30 per cent increase. If you watch this gain from year to year you will become intensely interested in your advertising, and how you can make it enlarge your business.

If you try this method we believe you will not want to let a single issue of this paper go to press without something from your store.

We will be pleased to have you call on us, and we will take pleasure in explaining our annual contract for so many inches, and how it can be used in whatever amount that seems necessary to you.

If you can sell goods over the counter we can also show you why this paper will best serve your interests when you want to reach the people of this community.

To Drive Away the Mail Order Wolf

You can drive him out quickly if you use the mail order houses' own weapon—advertising. Mail order concerns are spending thousands of dollars every week in order to get trade from the home merchants. Do you think for a minute they would keep it up if they didn't get the business? Don't take it for granted that every one within a radius of 25 miles knows what you have to sell, and what your prices are. Nine times out of ten your prices are lower, but the customer is influenced by the up-to-date advertising of the mail order house. Every article you advertise should be described and priced. You must tell your story in an interesting way, and when you want to reach the buyers of this community use the columns of this paper.
